COFFEE BEANS

1000g

Our coffee is the result of a combination of varieties of coffee processed with the washed method: the fruits after harvest are stripped, poked, washed and then dried. They come from South America, Central America and Caribbean, Africa and Asia; most belong to the Arabica and Robusta species, dosed in the right quantity to get a high quality coffee. Blending takes place before and not after roasting, a more complex and demanding operation, but the only one that gives coffee a balanced and constant taste over time. The control of this process is a particularly crucial and decisive aspect for the excellence of toast.
